Ian Calder ArtS

The media of oil paint creates to me, an unrivalled palette of mood and texture which faithfully records a subject.

Originally self taught I offer a professional and uncompromising painting that will only be seen when it as finished as it can be. Reputation, recommendation and personal satisfaction demands this.

Having started out painting pet portraits, I have extended my portfolio to include wildlife, particularly Gorillas, Orang Utans and Chimpanzees. A significant percentage of the selling price is donated to charities working for these wonderful animals.

Seascapes, landscapes, light and shade are always a joy to create in oils.

Commissions are supplied on canvas, to an agreed size and you will buy the original. No prints are taken unless you request them. I only keep a photograph for my portfolio and brochures. The painting is supplied unframed although I can offer a framing service through a professional, local framing service.

Limited edition prints of my own work are also available.

Contact me for a no obligation quote. You could email me a photo of what you would like painting or I can visit and photograph. This is included in the price.
